

RESOLUTION OF THE
NAVAJO NATION COUNCIL
24th NAVAJO NATION COUNCIL - THIRD YEAR, 2021

AN ACTION

RELATING TO THE RESOURCES AND DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE, NAABIK'ÍYÁTI' COMMITTEE, AND THE NAVAJO NATION COUNCIL; SUPPORTING UNITED STATES SENATE BILL S. 1535 TITLED "AMERICA'S RED ROCK WILDERNESS ACT"

WHEREAS:

- A. The Navajo Nation has a government-to-government relationship with the United States of America, Treaty of 1868, Aug. 12, 1868, 15 Stat. 667.
- B. The Navajo Nation Council is the governing body of the Navajo Nation with the responsibility and authority to promulgate policies of the Navajo Nation. 2 N.N.C. §§ 102(A) and 164(A).
- C. The Naabik'íyátí Committee is a standing committee of the Navajo Nation Council with the authority and responsibility to hear and act on all resolutions that require final action by the Navajo Nation Council. 2 N.N.C. §§ 164(A)(9) and 700(A).
- D. The Resources and Development Committee is a standing committee of the Navajo Nation Council with oversight authority over water, land, environment, environmental protection, cultural resources, and wildlife, etc. and the authority and responsibility to protect the rights, interests, sacred sites and freedoms of the Navajo Nation and Navajo People regarding such resources, now and for future generations. 2 N.N.C. §§ 500(A), (C), and (C)(1).
- E. On January 20, 2021, President of the United States, Joe Biden issued Executive Order No. 13990 entitled: "Protecting Public Health and the Environment and Restoring Science to Tackle the Climate Crises" ("Executive Order on the Climate Crisis") stating that "[o]ur Nation has an abiding commitment to [...] promote and protect our public health and the environment; and conserve our national treasures and monuments, places that structure our national memory" and "[w]here the Federal Government has failed to meet that commitment in the past, it must advance environmental justice . . ."
- F. President Biden further stated in the Executive Order on the Climate Crisis that the policy of the Biden Administration is to "listen to the science; to improve public health and protect our environment to ensure access to clean air and water; to limit exposure to dangerous chemicals and pesticides; to hold polluters accountable, including those who disproportionately harm communities of color and low-income communities; to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, to bolster resilience to the impacts of climate change; to restore and expand our national treasures and monuments; and to prioritize environmental justice . . ."

- G. President Biden also issued a "Memorandum on Tribal Consultation and Strengthening Nation-to-Nation Relationships" ("Memorandum on Tribal Consultation") on January 26, 2021, which stated that "[it] is a priority of my Administration to make respect for Tribal sovereignty and self-governance, commitment to fulfilling Federal trust and treaty responsibilities to Tribal Nations, and regular, meaningful, and robust consultation with Tribal Nations, a cornerstone of Federal Indian policy." The memorandum further states that the U.S. has made promises to Tribal Nations for at least two centuries and "[h]onoring those commitments is particularly vital now, as our Nation faces crises related to health, the economy, racial justice, and climate change - all of which disproportionately harms Native Americans".
- H. President Biden further stated in his Memorandum on Tribal Consultation that the Federal Government has much to learn from Tribal Nations and his "Administration is committed to honoring Tribal sovereignty and including Tribal voices in policy deliberation that affects Tribal Communities."
- I. President Biden next issued Executive Order No. 14008 titled: "Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad" on January 27, 2021, which acknowledges the profound climate crisis, and sets forth his Administration's policy of making climate considerations an essential element in its decision-making process on a broad scale, in order to avoid setting the world on a dangerous, potentially catastrophic, climate trajectory.
- J. The President's Executive Order No. 14008 further initiated a directive whereby thirty percent (30%) of the United State's lands and waters are to be conserved and preserved by 2030 ("30x30") in order to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.
- K. The Navajo Nation Council recognizes that conserving the undeveloped lands and resources currently managed by the federal government in Utah will help in President Biden's effort to address climate change and will also help protect and preserve the cultural, prehistoric and historic records and legacy of the Diné and other Native Peoples, and the cultural traditions and practices of Native Peoples that continue today.

- L. The Navajo Nation Council also recognizes that one of the best tools the U.S. Congress has to help meet the President's "30x30" goal is to legislatively designate all of the qualified undeveloped public lands in Utah as Wilderness pursuant to the Wilderness Act of 1964 (Pub. L. 88-577).
- M. The Navajo Nation Council further recognizes that management of Wilderness is one of the strongest and most protective designations available to public lands and will keep fossil fuels in the ground so that greenhouse gases and other pollution that exacerbates climate change will not be produced during the exploration, development and eventual combustion of those natural resources.
- N. The Navajo Nation Council is sadly aware of the significant negative long-term health impacts to our People, and the extensive environmental impacts to our lands and water that the Dine' have suffered from the exploration and development of oil, gas and uranium near our homes and communities, and recognizes that these fossil fuel resources and minerals, once put into production, have also caused broader climate change impacts.
- O. The Navajo Nation Council appreciates and supports that designating undeveloped lands as Wilderness will provide quantifiable carbon sequestration benefits, and important climate adaptation benefits to plants and wildlife, and will also conserve scarce water resources and reduce fugitive dust emissions which exacerbate climate change effects.
- P. The Navajo Nation Council further acknowledges that lands covered by United Senate Bill S. 1535 titled "America's Red Rock Wilderness Act", attached as Exhibit A, with map attached as Exhibit B, including lands that were within the boundaries of the original Bears Ears National Monument established by Presidential Proclamation No. 9558 on December 28, 2016, are culturally and traditionally significant to many Native peoples, including the Diné.
- Q. The Navajo Nation Council also acknowledges and recognizes that for hundreds of generations Native peoples have lived in the canyons and mountains and on the mesas included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act and that these sensitive areas comprise one of the most extensive and significant cultural landscapes in the United States.

- R. The Navajo Nation Council additionally recognizes that the rock art, cliff dwellings and other structures and ceremonial sites located on lands included in "America's Red Rock Wilderness Act", are the critically important records of Native peoples' habitation that tells the story of the subsistence of daily life, traditions, and ceremonies of many generations past.
- S. The Navajo Nation Council recognizes that the cultural importance of the lands and resources included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act are sacred to many Native peoples, including the Navajo, and that important historic remnants of Navajo Hogan's, pottery, sweat lodges, sheep-herding camps and farming are found throughout the lands included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act.
- T. The Navajo Nation Council is also aware there is a remarkable variety of plant species, including sensitive plants that are critical to Navajo traditional and ceremonial uses that grow in areas included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act. Furthermore, that many species of wildlife whose habitats are included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act are important to Navajo ceremonies and the Navajo way of life.
- U. The Navajo Nation Council firmly believes that protecting the lands and resources included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act - from Cedar Mesa to the Book Cliffs, from the San Rafael Swell and the Escalante to the West Desert - will help protect and preserve the cultural prehistoric and historic records which are the legacy of the Navajo and other Native peoples, and will help protect the plants and animals that are part of Navajo heritage and cultural traditions and practices that continue through today.
- V. The Navajo Nation Council is sadly aware that there are various activities, including mineral and energy development, unmanaged recreation, vandalism and looting, and other actions that harm the cultural and natural resources on public lands included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act, S. 1535. Designating these lands as Wilderness will better protect these cultural and natural resources from damaging development and activities.
- W. As the governing body of the Navajo Nation, the Navajo Nation Council, with support from Navajo Nation Chapters (see chapter resolutions attached as Exhibit C) hereby supports S. 1535 and Congressional wilderness designation for and protection of lands within America's Red Rock Wilderness Act to help address the climate crisis as set forth in Executive Orders No. 13990 and 14008.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

- A. The Navajo Nation Council hereby supports United States Senate Bill S. 1535 titled, "America's Red Rock Wilderness Act" attached hereto as Exhibit A.

- B. The Navajo Nation Council hereby authorizes the Speaker of the Navajo Nation Council, President of the Navajo Nation, and their designees, to support United States Senate Bill S. 1535 titled, "America's Red Rock Wilderness Act".

I hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was duly considered by the 24th Navajo Nation Council at a duly called meeting in Window Rock, Navajo Nation (Arizona), at which a quorum was present and that the same was passed by a vote of 21 in Favor, and 00 Opposed, on this 30th day of September 2021.

2 Act is 1 of the largest remaining expanses of unpro-
3 tected, wild public land in the continental United
4 States;

5 (2) the designation of wilderness by this Act
6 would—

7 (A) increase landscape connectivity in the 8 Colorado Plateau; and

9 (B) help to mitigate the impacts of climate 10 change by—

11 (i) providing critical refugia;

12 (ii) reducing surface disturbances that
13 exacerbate the impacts of climate change;

14 (iii) reducing greenhouse gas emis-
15 sions related to the extraction and use of 16 fossil fuels; and

17 (iv) contributing to the goal of pro-
18 tecting 30 percent of global land and
19 waters by 2030;

20 (3) the land designated as wilderness by this 21 Act is—

22 (A) a living cultural landscape;

23 (B) a place of refuge for wild nature; and

24 (C) an important part of Indigenous and
25 non-Indigenous community values;

1 (4) Indian Tribes have been present on the land
2 designated as wilderness by this Act since time im-
3 memorial, using the plant, animal, landform, and
4 spiritual values for sustenance and cultural, medic-
5 inal, and ceremonial activities, purposes for which 6 Indigenous people continue to use the land; and

7 (5) the designation of wilderness by this Act—

11 use and sanctuary.

12 SEC. 4. PURPOSES.

13 The purposes of this Act are—

14 (1) to designate as wilderness certain Federal
15 portions of the red rock canyons of the Colorado

17 Utah for the benefit of present and future genera-
18 tions of people in the United States;

19 (2) to protect the cultural, ecological, and sce-
20 nic values of land designated as wilderness by this
21 Act for the benefit, use, and enjoyment of present
22 and future generations of people in the United 23 States; and

24 (3) to protect the ability of Indigenous and non-
25 Indigenous people to use the land designated as wil-

1 derness by this Act for traditional activities, includ-
2 ing hunting, fishing, hiking, horsepacking, camping,
3 and spirituality as people have used the land for
4 generations.

5 TITLE I—DESIGNATION OF
6 WILDERNESS AREAS

7 SEC. 101. GREAT BASIN WILDERNESS AREAS.

13 Basin region are arid and austere, with massive cliff
14 faces and leathery slopes speckled with piñon and ju-
15 niper;

16 (3) the Pilot Range and Stansbury Mountains
17 in the Great Basin region are high enough to draw
18 moisture from passing clouds and support eco-
19 systems found nowhere else on earth;

20 (4) from bristlecone pine, the world's oldest liv-
21 ing organism, to newly flowered mountain meadows,
22 mountains of the Great Basin region are islands of 23 nature that—

24 (A) support remarkable biological diversity;

25 and

1 (B) provide opportunities to experience the
2 colossal silence of the Great Basin; and

3 (5) the Great Basin region of western Utah
4 should be protected and managed to ensure the pres-
5 ervation of the natural conditions of the region.

22 acres).

23 (17) Yellow Bird (approximately 4,600 acres).

24 SEC. 104. HENRY MOUNTAINS WILDERNESS AREAS.

25 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

1 (1) the Henry Mountain Range, the last moun-
2 tain range to be discovered and named by early ex-
3 plorers in the contiguous United States, still retains
4 a wild and undiscovered quality;

5 (2) fluted badlands that surround the flanks of
6 11,000-foot Mounts Ellen and Pennell contain areas
7 of critical habitat for mule deer and for the largest
8 herd of free-roaming buffalo in the United States;

9 (3) despite their relative accessibility, the Henry
10 Mountain Range remains one of the wildest, least-
11 known ranges in the United States; and

12 (4) the Henry Mountain range should be pro-
13 tected and managed to ensure the preservation of 14 the range as a wilderness area.

15 (b) DESIGNATION.—In accordance with the Wilder-
16 ness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the following areas in
17 the State are designated as wilderness areas and as com-
18 ponents of the National Wilderness Preservation System:

19 (1) Bull Mountain (approximately 16,000
20 acres).

21 (2) Bullfrog Creek (approximately 42,000
22 acres).

9 acres).

10 (9) Notom Bench (approximately 7,300 acres).

11 (10) Oak Creek (approximately 1,500 acres).

12 (11) Ragged Mountain (approximately 29,000
13 acres).

14 SEC. 105. GLEN CANYON WILDERNESS AREAS.

15 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

16 (1) the side canyons of Glen Canyon, including
17 the Dirty Devil River and the Red, White and Blue
18 Canyons, contain some of the most remote and out-
19 standing landscapes in southern Utah;

20 (2) the Dirty Devil River, once the fortress
21 hideout of outlaw Butch Cassidy's Wild Bunch, has 22 sculpted a maze of slickrock canyons through an im-
23 posing landscape of monoliths and inaccessible
24 mesas;

1 (3) the Red and Blue Canyons contain colorful
2 Chinle/Moenkopi badlands found nowhere else in the 3 region; and

4 (4) the canyons of Glen Canyon in the State
5 should be protected and managed as wilderness
6 areas.

7 (b) DESIGNATION.—In accordance with the Wilder-
8 ness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the following areas in
9 the State are designated as wilderness areas and as com-
10 ponents of the National Wilderness Preservation System:

11 (1) Cane Spring Desert (approximately 18,000
12 acres).

13 (2) Dark Canyon (approximately 138,000
14 acres).

15 (3) Dirty Devil (approximately 245,000 acres).

16 (4) Fiddler Butte (approximately 93,000 acres).

17 (5) Flat Tops (approximately 30,000 acres).

19 acres).

21 acres).

22 (8) The Needle (approximately 11,000 acres).

23 (9) White Canyon (approximately 115,500
24 acres).

1 SEC. 106. SAN JUAN-ANASAZI WILDERNESS AREAS.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

3 (1) more than 1,000 years ago, the Anasazi In-
4 dian culture flourished in the slickrock canyons and
5 on the piñon-covered mesas of southeastern Utah;

6 (2) evidence of the ancient presence of the 7 Anasazi pervades the Cedar Mesa area of the San
8 Juan-Anasazi area where cliff dwellings, rock art,
9 and ceremonial kivas embellish sandstone overhangs
10 and isolated benchlands;

11 (3) the Cedar Mesa area is in need of protec-
12 tion from the vandalism and theft of its unique cul-
13 tural resources;

14 (4) the Cedar Mesa wilderness areas should be
15 created to protect both the archaeological heritage
16 and the extraordinary wilderness, scenic, and eco-
17 logical values of the United States; and

18 (5) the San Juan-Anasazi area should be pro-
19 tected and managed as a wilderness area to ensure
20 the preservation of the unique and valuable re-
21 sources of that area.

22 (b) DESIGNATION.—In accordance with the Wilder-
23 ness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the following areas in
24 the State are designated as wilderness areas and as com-
25 ponents of the National Wilderness Preservation System:

26 (1) Allen Canyon (approximately 6,400 acres).

- 1 (2) Arch Canyon (approximately 30,500 acres).
- 2 (3) Comb Ridge (approximately 16,000 acres).
- 3 (4) Cross Canyon (approximately 2,400 acres).
- 4 (5) East Montezuma (approximately 46,500
- 5 acres).
- 6 (6) Fish and Owl Creek Canyon (approximately
- 7 74,000 acres).
- 8 (7) Grand Gulch (approximately 161,000
- 9 acres).
- 10 (8) Hammond Canyon (approximately 4,700
- 11 acres).
- 12 (9) Monument Canyon (approximately 18,000
- 13 acres).
- 14 (10) Nokai Dome (approximately 94,000 acres).
- 15 (11) Road Canyon (approximately 64,000
- 16 acres).
- 17 (12) San Juan River (approximately 15,000
- 18 acres).
- 19 (13) The Tabernacle (approximately 7,400
- 20 acres).
- 21 (14) Tin Cup Mesa (approximately 26,000
- 22 acres).
- 23 (15) Valley of the Gods (approximately 20,000
- 24 acres).

1 SEC. 107. CANYONLANDS BASIN WILDERNESS AREAS.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

3 (1) Canyonlands National Park safeguards only
4 a small portion of the extraordinary red-hued, cliff-
5 walled canyonland region of the Colorado Plateau;

6 (2) areas near Canyonlands National Park con-
7 tain canyons with rushing perennial streams, natural
8 arches, bridges, and towers;

9 (3) the gorges of the Green and Colorado Riv-
10 ers lie on adjacent land managed by the Secretary;

11 (4) popular overlooks in Canyonlands National
12 Park and Dead Horse Point State Park have views
13 directly into adjacent areas, including Lockhart
14 Basin and Indian Creek; and

15 (5) designation of those areas as wilderness
16 would ensure the protection of this erosional master-
17 piece of nature and of the rich pockets of wildlife
18 found within its expanded boundaries.

19 (b) DESIGNATION.—In accordance with the Wilder-
20 ness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the following areas in
21 the State are designated as wilderness areas and as com-
22 ponents of the National Wilderness Preservation System:

23 (1) Bridger Jack Mesa (approximately 33,500
24 acres).

25 (2) Butler Wash (approximately 27,000 acres).

18 acres).

19 (13) Shay Mountain (approximately 15,500
20 acres).

21 (14) Sweetwater Reef (approximately 69,500
22 acres).

23 SEC. 108. SAN RAFAEL SWELL WILDERNESS AREAS.

24 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

1 (1) the San Rafael Swell towers above the
2 desert like a castle, ringed by 1,000-foot ramparts of
3 Navajo Sandstone;

4 (2) the highlands of the San Rafael Swell have
5 been fractured by uplift and rendered hollow by ero-
6 sion over countless millennia, leaving a tremendous 7 basin punctuated by mesas, buttes, and canyons and
8 traversed by sediment-laden desert streams;

9 (3) among other places, the San Rafael wilder-
10 ness offers exceptional back country opportunities in 11 the colorful Wild Horse Badlands, the monoliths of 12 North Caineville Mesa, the rock towers of Cliff
13 Wash, and colorful cliffs of Humbug Canyon;

14 (4) the mountains within these areas are among
15 Utah's most valuable habitat for desert bighorn
16 sheep; and

17 (5) the San Rafael Swell area should be pro-
18 tected and managed to ensure its preservation as a
19 wilderness area.

20 (b) DESIGNATION.—In accordance with the Wilder-
21 ness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the following areas in
22 the State are designated as wilderness areas and as com-
23 ponents of the National Wilderness Preservation System:

24 (1) Cedar Mountain (approximately 15,000
25 acres).

- 1 (2) Devils Canyon (approximately 14,000

15 acres).
- 16 (10) Molen Reef (approximately 32,500 acres).
- 17 (11) Muddy Creek (approximately 92,000
18 acres).
- 19 (12) Mussentuchit Badlands (approximately
20 24,500 acres).
- 21 (13) Price River-Humbug (approximately 22 122,000 acres).
- 23 (14) Red Desert (approximately 36,500 acres).
- 24 (15) Rock Canyon (approximately 17,500
25 acres).

6 acres).

7 (19) Upper Muddy Creek (approximately
8 18,500 acres).

9 (20) Wild Horse Mesa (approximately 63,000
10 acres).

11 SEC. 109. BOOK CLIFFS AND UINTA BASIN WILDERNESS

12 AREAS.

13 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

14 (1) the Book Cliffs and Uinta Basin wilderness
15 areas offer—

16 (A) unique big game hunting opportunities
17 in verdant high-plateau forests;

18 (B) the opportunity for float trips of sev-
19 eral days duration down the Green River in 20 Desolation Canyon; and

21 (C) the opportunity for calm water canoe
22 weekends on the White River;

23 (2) the long rampart of the Book Cliffs bounds
24 the area on the south, while seldom-visited uplands,

1 dissected by the rivers and streams, slope away to
2 the north into the Uinta Basin;

3 (3) bears, Bighorn sheep, cougars, elk, and
4 mule deer flourish in the back country of the Book
5 Cliffs; and

6 (4) the Book Cliffs and Uinta Basin areas
7 should be protected and managed to ensure the pro-
8 tection of the areas as wilderness.

9 (b) DESIGNATION.—In accordance with the Wilder-
10 ness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the following areas in

3 the State transfers to the Secretary any mineral interests
4 in land designated by this Act as a wilderness area.

5 SEC. 204. WATER.

6 (a) RESERVATION.—

7 (1) WATER FOR WILDERNESS AREAS.—

8 (A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to each
9 wilderness area designated by this Act, Con-
10 gress reserves a quantity of water determined
11 by the Secretary to be sufficient for the wilder-
12 ness area.

13 (B) PRIORITY DATE.—The priority date of 14 a right reserved under subparagraph (A) shall
15 be the date of enactment of this Act.

16 (2) PROTECTION OF RIGHTS.—The Secretary
17 and other officers and employees of the United 18 States shall take any steps necessary to protect the 19 rights reserved by paragraph (1)(A), including the 20 filing of a claim for the quantification of the rights
21 in any present or future appropriate stream adju-
22 dication in the courts of the State—

23 (A) in which the United States is or may 24 be joined; and

1 (B) that is conducted in accordance with
2 section 208 of the Department of Justice Ap-

3 road with wilderness on only 1 side shall be set at—

4 (A) 300 feet from a paved Federal or
5 State highway;

6 (B) 100 feet from any other paved road or 7 high standard dirt or gravel road; and

8 (C) 30 feet from any other road.

9 (3) WILDERNESS ON BOTH SIDES OF ROADS.—
10 Except as provided in subsection (b), a setback for 11 a road with wilderness on both sides (including cher-

11 (A) EXCLUSION OF DISTURBANCES FROM 12 WILDERNESS BOUNDARIES.—In cases where
13 there is an existing livestock development, dis-

17 may delineate the boundary so as to exclude the 18 disturbance from the wilderness area.

19 (B) LIMITATION ON EXCLUSION OF DIS-
20 TURBANCES.—The Secretary shall make a
21 boundary adjustment under subparagraph (A)
22 only if the Secretary determines that doing so
23 is consistent with wilderness management goals.

24 (C) DEVIATIONS RESTRICTED TO MINIMUM
25 NECESSARY.—Any deviation under this para-

1 graph from the setbacks required under in
2 paragraph (2) or (3) of subsection (a) shall be
3 the minimum necessary to exclude the disturb-
4 ance.

5 (c) DELINEATION WITHIN SETBACK AREA.—The
6 Secretary may delineate a wilderness boundary at a loca-
7 tion within a setback under paragraph (2) or (3) of sub-
8 section (a) if, as determined by the Secretary, the delinea-
9 tion would enhance wilderness management goals.

11 Within the wilderness areas designated under title I,
12 the grazing of livestock authorized on the date of enact-
13 ment of this Act shall be permitted to continue subject

1 SEC. 208. PROTECTION OF TRIBAL RIGHTS.

2 Nothing in this Act affects or modifies—

3 (1) any right of any federally recognized Indian

8. President Biden issued Executive Order 14008 “Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad” on January 27, 2021, which acknowledges the profound climate crisis, and sets forth his Administration’s policy of making climate considerations an essential element in its decision-making process on a broad scale “to avoid setting the world on a dangerous, potentially catastrophic, climate trajectory”; and
9. The President’s Executive Order further initiated a directive whereby 30 percent of the nation’s lands and waters are to be conserved and preserved by 2030 (“30x30”) in order to reduce greenhouse gas emissions; and
10. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that conserving the undeveloped lands and resources currently managed by the federal government in Utah will help in President Biden’s effort to address climate change and will also help protect and preserve the cultural, prehistoric and historic records and legacy of Dine` and other Native Peoples, and the cultural traditions and practices of Native Peoples that continue today; and
11. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that one of the best tools the U.S. Congress has to help meet the President’s “30x30” goals is to legislatively designate all of the qualified undeveloped public lands in Utah as Wilderness pursuant to The Wilderness Act of 1964 (Pub. L. 88-577); and
12. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that management of Wilderness is one of the strongest and most protective designations available to public lands and will keep fossil fuels in the ground so that greenhouse gases and other pollution that exacerbates climate change will not be produced during exploration, development and eventual combustion of those natural resources; and
13. The Beclabito Chapter is well aware of the significant negative long-term health impacts to our People, and the extensive environmental impacts to our lands and water that the Dine` have suffered from the exploration and development of oil, gas and uranium near our homes and communities, and that these fossil fuel resources and minerals, once put into production, have also caused broader climate change impacts; and

14. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that designating qualified undeveloped lands as Wilderness will provide quantifiable carbon sequestration benefits, and importantly climate adaptation benefits to plants and wildlife, and will also serve to conserve scarce water resources and reduce fugitive dust emissions which exacerbate climate change effects; and
15. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that lands in America's Redrock Wilderness Act (map attached), including lands that were within the boundaries of the original Bears Ears National Monument established by Presidential Proclamation No. 9558 on December 28, 2016, are culturally and traditionally significant to many Native peoples, including Navajo; and
16. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that for hundreds of generations Native peoples have lived in the canyons and mountains and on the mesas included in America's Redrock Wilderness Act and that these areas comprise one of the most extensive and significant cultural landscapes in the United States; and
17. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that the rock art, cliff dwellings and other structures and ceremonial sites located on lands in America's Redrock Wilderness Act, are the critically important records of Native peoples' habitation that tells the story of the subsistence of daily life, traditions, and ceremonies of generations past; and
18. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that the cultural importance of the lands and resources included in America's Redrock Wilderness Act are sacred to many Native peoples, including Navajo; and
19. The Beclabito Chapter recognizes that important historic remnants of Navajo hogans, pottery, sweat lodges, sheep-herding camps and farming are found throughout the lands included in America's Redrock Wilderness Act; and
20. The Beclabito Chapter is aware there are a remarkable variety of plant species, including sensitive plants that are critical to Navajo traditional and ceremonial uses that grow in areas included in America's Redrock Wilderness; and
21. The Beclabito Chapter is aware of many species of wildlife that are important to Navajo ceremonies and Navajo way of life, whose habitats are included in America's Redrock Wilderness Act; and
22. The Beclabito Chapter acknowledges that protecting the lands and resources included in America's Redrock Wilderness Act – from Cedar Mesa to the Book Cliffs, from the San Rafael Swell and the Escalante to the West Desert – will help protect and preserve the cultural prehistoric and historic records which are the legacy of Navajos and other Native peoples, and help protect the plants and animals that are part of Navajo heritage and cultural traditions and practices that continue through today; and

23. The Beclabito Chapter is aware that there are various activities, including mineral and energy developments, unmanaged recreation, vandalism and looting, and other actions that could harm the cultural and natural resources on public lands included in America's Redrock Wilderness Act, and that designating these lands as Wilderness will better protect these cultural and natural resources from damaging development and activities.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Beclabito Chapter hereby supports President Biden's Executive Order 13990 "Protecting Public Health and the Environment and Restoring Science to Tackle the Climate Crises" generally and specifically to protect our public health and the environment; and conserve our national treasures and monuments.
2. The Beclabito Chapter hereby supports President Biden's Executive Order 14008 "Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad" and specifically its directive for conserving 30 percent of the nation's lands and waters by 2030.
3. The Beclabito Chapter hereby supports President Biden's January 26, 2021 "Memorandum on Tribal Consultation" to better meet the United States' centuries old commitments to Tribal Nations.
4. The Beclabito Chapter hereby supports Congressional wilderness designation for lands within America's Redrock Wilderness Act to help address the climate crisis as set forth in Executive Orders 13990 and 14008.
5. The Beclabito Chapter supports America's Redrock Wilderness Act to help provide time and places for plants and wildlife to adapt to the changing climate, and to better protect our scarce water resources.
6. The Beclabito Chapter requests continued feedback on the progress, or lack thereof, on the American Redrock Wilderness Act.

We, hereby, certify that the foregoing resolution was duly considered at a duly called meeting in Beclabito, Navajo Nation, New Mexico at which a quorum of Chapter members was present and that the same was passed by a vote of 8 in favor, 0 opposed and 3 abstained this 14th day of June, 2021.

DENNEHOTSO CHAPTER
DCHJULY – 062 – 2021

SUPPORTING AMERICA'S RED ROCK WILDERNESS ACT TO HELP
ADDRESS THE CLIMATE CRISIS

WHEREAS:

1. Dennehotso Chapter is a certified Chapter of the Navajo Nation, established and recognized by the Navajo Nation Council as a foundation of the Navajo Nation government, vested with the authority to plan and implement projects in the best interest of the community, 1AW N.N.C., Section 103 (D); and
2. On January 20, 2021, the President Biden of the United States of America issued Executive Order 13990 "Protecting Public Health and the Environment and Restoring Science to Tackling the Climate Crises" ("Executive Order on the Climate Crisis") stating that "[o]ur Nation has an abiding commitment to [...] promote and protect our public health and the environment; and conserve our national treasure and monument. Places that secure our national memory" and "[w]here the Federal Government has failed to meet that commitment in the past, it must advance environmental justice..."; and
3. President Biden further stated in the Executive Order on the Climate Crisis that the policy of the Administration is to "listen to the science; to improve public health and protect our environment; to ensure success to clean air and water; to limit exposure to dangerous chemicals and pesticides; to hold polluters accountable, including those who disproportionately harm communities of color and low-income communities; to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, to bolster residences to the impact of climate change; to restore and expand our national treasure and monuments; and to prioritize [...] environmental justice..."; and
4. President Biden issued a "Memorandum on Tribal Consultation and Strengthening Nation-to-Nation Relationships" ("Memorandum on Tribal Consultation") on January 26, 2021, which stated that "[i]t is a priority of my Administration to make respect for Tribal sovereignty and self-governance, commitment to fulfilling Federal trust and treaty responsibility to Tribal Nations, and regular, meaningful, and robust consultation with Tribal Nations cornerstones of Federal Indian policy" and that the U.S. has made promises to Tribal Nations for at least two centuries and "[h]onoring those commitments is particularly vital now, as our Nation faces crises related to health, he economy, racial justice, and climate change – all of which disproportionately harm Native Americans"; and
5. President Biden further stated in the Memorandum on Tribal Consultation that the Federal Government has much to learn from Tribal Nations and his "Administration is committed to honoring Tribal sovereignty and including Tribal voices in policy deliberation that affects Tribal Communities”; and

6. President Biden issued Executive Order 14008 “Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad” on January 27, 2021, which acknowledges the profound climate crisis, and sets forth his Administration’s policy of making climate consideration an essential element in its decision-making process on a broad scale “to avoid setting the work on a dangerous, potentially catastrophic, climate trajectory”; and
7. The President’s Executive Order further initiated a directive whereby 30 percent of the Nation’s land and waters are to be conserved and preserved by 2030 (“30x30”) in order to reduce greenhouse gas emissions; and
8. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that conserving the underdeveloped lands and resources currently managed by the federal government in Utah will help in President Biden’s effort to address climate change and will also help protect and preserve the cultural, prehistoric record and legacy of Diné and other Native Peoples, and the cultural traditions and practices of Native Peoples that continue today; and
9. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that one of the best tools the U.S. Congress has to help meet the President’s “30x30” goals is to legislatively designate all of the qualified underdeveloped public land in Utah as Wilderness Act of 1064 (Pub. L. 88-577); and
10. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that management of Wilderness is one of the strongest and most protective designations available to public lands and will keep fossil fuels in the ground so that greenhouse gases and other pollution that exacerbates climate change will not be produced during exploration, development and eventual combustion of those national resources; and
11. The Dennehotso Chapter is well aware of the significant negative long-term health impacts to our People, and the extensive environment impacts to our lands and water that the Diné have suffered from the exploration and development of oil, gas and uranium near our homes and communities, and that these fossil fuels resources and mineral, once put into production, have also caused broader climate change impacts;
12. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that designated qualified undeveloped land as Wilderness will provide quantifiable carbon sequestration benefits, and importantly climate adaptation benefits to plant and wildlife, and will also serve to conserve scarce water resources and reduce fugitive dust emissions which exacerbate climate change effects; and
13. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that lands in America’s Red Rock Wilderness Act (map attached), include lands that were within the boundaries of the original Bear Ears National Monument established by Presidential Proclamation No. 9558 on December 28, 2016, are culturally and traditionally significant to many Native people, including the Navajo; and

14. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that for hundreds of generations Native peoples have lived in the canyons and mountains and on the mesa included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act and that these areas comprise one of the most extensive and significant cultural landscape in the United States; and
15. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that the rock art, cliff dwellings and other structures and ceremonial sites located on land in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act, are the critically important records of Native peoples' habitation that tells the story of the subsistence of daily life, traditions, and ceremonies of generations past; and
16. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that the cultural importance of the land and resources included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act are sacred to many Native people, including the Navajo; and
17. The Dennehotso Chapter recognizes that important historic remnants of Navajo hogans pottery, sweat lodges, sheep-herding camps and farming are found throughout the lands included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act; and
18. The Dennehotso Chapter is aware there are a remarkable variety of plant species, including sensitive plants that are critical to Navajo traditional and ceremonial use that grow in areas included in America's Red Rock Wilderness; and
19. The Dennehotso Chapter is aware of many species of wildlife that are important to Navajo ceremonies and Navajo way of life, whose habitats are included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act; and
20. The Dennehotso Chapter acknowledges that protecting the land and resources included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act – from Cedar Mesa to the Book Cliffs, from the San Rafael Swell and the Escalante to the West Desert – will help protect and preserve the cultural prehistoric and historic records which are the legacy of Navajos and other Native peoples, and help protect the plants and animals that are part of Navajo heritage and cultural traditions and practices that continue through today; and
21. The Dennehotso Chapter is aware that there are various activities, including mineral and energy developments, unmanaged recreation, vandalism and looting, and other actions that could harm the cultural and natural resources on public lands included in America's Red Rock Wilderness Act, and that designating these lands as Wilderness will better protect these cultural and natural resources from damaging development and activities.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The Dennehotso Chapter hereby supports America's Red Rock Wilderness Act to help address the climate crisis; and

6. The Dennehotso Chapter hereby supports America's Red Rock Wilderness Act to help provide time and places for plants and wildlife to adapt to the changing climate, and to better protect our scared water resources; and
